South Suburban Music Society

Director's Foreword

Welcome!

Established in 1938, the South Suburban Music Society aims to promote the learning, appreciation and stagecraft of music by providing a safe and supportive performance environment for amateur musicians. Our annual competition is held in the last quarter of every year and showcases strings, woodwind, vocal, brass, guitar, piano and ensemble performances, ranging from novice to tertiary standards.

The Eisteddfod returns this year, for the first time since 2019! We wish to extend a huge thank-you to the immediate past president Lorna Sambell, the late Christopher Latham and their dedicated team for their commitment to the society over the past years. We are both pianists who have participated in this much-loved competition since we were children. Music has remained much a part of our lives and we are so excited and honoured to come full circle to present the 2024 Eisteddfod.

Our competition objectives still remain the same, 82 years later. We hope you enjoy listening to all the wonderful performances from our talented young Western Australian musicians.

Of course, this competition would not be possible without our sponsors. We are truly grateful for their ongoing support of the competition. They are acknowledged on the final page of the schedule.

We look forward to hearing you!

Yours sincerely,
Sophie Fang Lin and Lisa Yang
SSMS Co-directors
